Dead man wakes up, then dies en route to hospital

Mother's touch moves Poll Officer's body kept at mortuary in Hanur. But doctors in Mysuru hospital declare him dead on arrival.

Chamarajanagar Deputy Commissioner D.S. Ramesh visited the hospital in Hanur where Jagadish was declared dead first. He later woke up and died en route to hospital in Mysuru.

Hanur/ Mysuru, Apr. 19 (BCT)- In a bizarre twist of fate, an officer deputed for election duty was pronounced dead by doctors and was later discovered to be alive and breathing inside the mortuary just before the post-mortem. Though he was immediately shifted to a bigger hospital in Mysuru, the officer could not survive and was declared brought dead.

Jagadish

The incident occurred at Hanur in Chamarajanagar district yesterday and the deceased is 40-year-old Jagadish, an employee at the Treasury Department. He was deputed for election duty and had come to Hanur yesterday to attend a training on elections organised for Assistant Returning Officers and Presiding Officers at Vivekananda School.

At the school at around 10 am, Jagadish reportedly tripped while climbing steps and he sustained severe injuries to his head and chin. The back of his head was severely bleeding due to the impact and the officer fell unconscious. Other election officers immediately rushed Jagadish to Holy Cross Hospital in Hanur.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

As eager as I am to use my voter ID for the first time ever, I have many questions running through my mind. How do I choose the right candidate? My course of action was what any 19-year-old faced with a problem would do. Google. I sat down and googled the candidates contesting in my Constituency, went through their educational qualifications, saw that they had no criminal records and went through their work so far. I ended up being more confused than ever.

Asking people around for help was of no use either. The most common suggestion was to cast my vote for whatever party I admired. The one thing born out of watching loud prime-time debates and endlessly scrolling through my father's Twitter feed where liberals and right-wing supporters both made sense was indecisiveness. I am not a partisan person. I believe each party has its advantages and disadvantages. And it is exhausting to pledge allegiance to one party, defend their wrongs and hail their rights daily.

Another thought I have been fiddling with of late is how effective pressing the NOTA would be. When I voiced this, I was met with a very angry relative of mine, shouting at me that voting NOTA is synonymous with not voting at all, and I would be an anti-nationalist if I did so. As an Indian, NOTA was not an option. Because I love my country and am a nationalist. But what would happen if the NOTA votes exceeded the votes gained by other candidates? Well, there seems to be no fixed answer to this.

Another question I had as a first-time voter was: how would my vote matter if the candidate I cast my vote for decided to leave the current party and join hands with another party that was totally against my ideology? I would feel betrayed, to say the least.

I am glad that these thoughts share a space in my brain, apart from my end-semester exam worries. But there is not a lot to complain about with election season upon us.

The roads are getting better, the promises are getting more creative and the days are getting longer (that is just summer, not politics). I still have not zeroed in on a candidate to vote for. But it does make me question how effective democracy is if people's choices, in the end, are just trails of regret.

Dogs in Parks: Suggestions

Sir,

With reference to the readers' views about dogs in parks, as a pet dog owner of several decades, I would like to raise a few points. For many of us, dogs are family. Also I would suppose other species have as much right to this earth as humans.

It is understandable that residents are peeved that roads and common areas are used by their neighbours as dog toilets. As dog owners we need to be responsible and pick up dog poops. This is mandated in many countries. All it needs is a plastic bag inverted over our hand. Biodegradable bags for pet excreta disposal are easily available.

Dog owners also have to be responsible about walking their dogs quietly so that they do not disturb other walkers or dogs. Street dogs generally know how to keep out of the way unlike some pet dogs.

On the part of Mysuru City Corporation, if exclusive bins labelled dog can be placed at intervals for collection of these bags, again a practice in many countries, it will encourage pet owners to pick up the excreta.

As a senior citizen myself, I do understand the need for seniors to have a quiet space where they can walk unhindered. This can be addressed by MCC by reserving one or more parks exclusively for the use of dogs and their owners.

The solution is simple provided both dog owners and MCC address it together.

Permission mandatory for election advertisements

Mysuru, Apr. 19 (DM)- Deputy Commissioner Dr. K.V. Rajendra, who is also the District Electoral Officer, has announced that with the Model Code of Conduct in effect for the May 10 Assembly polls, candidates and political parties are required to obtain prior permission (pre-certification) before releasing campaign advertisements on electronic and social media.

The move has come after the Supreme Court made it mandatory for political parties to take prior approval from the Media Certification and Monitoring Committee (MCMC) formed at the District and State levels as per Article 142 of the Constitution.

During a Media Certification and Monitoring Committee meeting at his office yesterday, Dr. Rajendra emphasised that obtaining pre-certification from the competent authority is mandatory for releasing campaign advertisements in print media or electronic media. The rules are also applicable on the day before or on the day of polling.

Political parties and election candidates will require prior approval from the Election Commission for circulating any form of political advertisements on television, radio, social media or any other form of electronic media, he said.

He also noted that certification by the MCMC is required even if the newspaper is online, and emphasised that paid news in any form is strictly prohibited in all forms of media.

Post-elections, no approval for political advertisements is sought. Hence any sort of advertisement having a political message is to be approved by the MCMC before broadcasting.

In a warning against the publication of paid news, Dr. Rajendra stated that appropriate action would be taken against those who violate these norms under Section 171 of the Representation of People Act. He also noted that the cost of advertisements issued in support of candidates with their approval will be added to the candidates' poll expenditures.

INX Media money laundering case

Congress MP Karti Chidambaram's Rs. 11 crore assets seized in Kodagu

New Delhi, Apr. 19 (Agencies)- The Enforcement Directorate (ED) yesterday attached assets worth Rs. 11.04 crore belonging to Congress MP Karti Chidambaram and others in connection with the alleged INX media money laundering case. The seized assets include both movable and immovable properties in the Kodagu district, according to a statement.

"During the investigation, it was revealed that illegal gratification (proceeds of crime) was received directly and indirectly from INX Media Pvt. Ltd., to which accused P. Chidambaram granted FIPB (Foreign Investment Promotion Board) approval via shell companies controlled/ beneficially owned/ used by another accused, Karti Chidambaram," ED said in a statement.

The Congress MP is the son of former Union Finance Minister and veteran Congress leader P. Chidambaram. The ED investigation started after the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) registered a complaint against P. Chidambaram where it was contended that he 'misused his official position' when he was a Union Finance Minister, along with his son Karti, to grant approval to Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) to INX Media and INX News Pvt. Ltd. in lieu of 'illegal gratification' in India through offshore payments.

In an FIR, the CBI alleged irregularities in the FIPB in allowing INX Media to receive offshore funds to the tune of Rs. 305 crore in 2007. It led ED to lodge a money-laundering case. Earlier, the former Union Minister was arrested by CBI in the case in August 2019. The ED arrested him in the same year in October. He got bail in both cases.

Karti had earlier alleged that the BJP-led Centre has been carrying out a politically motivated vendetta against his family.

Leopard trapped in T. Narasipur shifted to Bannerghatta

Mysuru, Apr. 19 (SBD&KS)- A leopard, which was trapped in a cage at an agricultural field in Rangasamudra village of T. Narasipur taluk, has been shifted to Bannerghatta Biological Park in Bengaluru.

Villagers of Rangasamudra, who had spotted the leopard in the agricultural field, had lodged a complaint to the Forest Department officials. The T. Narasipur Leopard Task Force personnel, led by Range Forest Officer (RFO) and Deputy Range Forest Officer (DRFO), conducted combing operations and found pug marks in the agricultural field. After confirming the movement of the leopard, the Forest staff had placed a cage in the agricultural field belonging to one Nagendra in Rangasamudra village on Apr. 12 and the leopard, aged about three-and-a-half years, which walked into the cage in the early morning yesterday, was trapped.

Following instructions from the higher officials, the Forest staff have shifted the leopard to Bannerghatta Biological Park, said Deputy Conservator of Forests (DCF) Basavaraju.

Will Mandya be second seat for Kumaraswamy?

Mandya, Apr. 19 (BS)- If speculations turn out to be true, the Mandya Assembly Constituency will witness another closely contested electoral battle, as Janata Dal (Secular) leader H.D. Kumaraswamy is considering running in Mandya as his second seat, alongside Channapatna, which he currently represents in the Legislative Assembly.

Kumaraswamy

In the 2018 elections, Kumaraswamy successfully contested from both Channapatna and Ramanagara constituencies. Reliable sources suggest that Kumaraswamy will be running in both Channapatna and Mandya Constituencies this time around.

To support this development, various arrangements are being made, such as booking a room for Kumaraswamy's three-week stay at a prestigious hotel in the name of a JD(S) leader, as well as reserving a meeting hall. Furthermore, a bank account has been opened in Kumaraswamy's name at a bank in the area.

As a precursor to this, JD(S) leaders, who addressed the media four to five days ago, strongly advocated for Kumaraswamy's participation in the Mandya Constituency. M. Srinivas, the incumbent JD(S) MLA of Mandya, also expressed a similar sentiment.

"Mandya will prosper if Kumaraswamy contests. If he decides to run, I am willing to give up the seat. We have already met with Kumaraswamy thrice and have invited him to contest in Mandya," he said.

Kumaraswamy has stated that he will make a final decision after meeting with the party leaders and workers of Mandya soon. "There has been pressure for me to run in Mandya. Even some senior Congress leaders have met with me and suggested that I contest in Mandya, as there is a possibility of sweeping all seven Constituencies in the district if I do. However, there are no obstacles to my victory in Channapatna, but my opponents have spread misinformation about my potential candidacy in Mandya due to their fear of losing the election in Channapatna," Kumaraswamy said.

BJP strategy

Meanwhile, the BJP is gearing up to field Mandya Lok Sabha MP Sumalatha Ambarish in the event of Kumaraswamy deciding to contest from Mandya.

This is part of BJP's big plans to field strong candidates against the Opposition's top leaders like Siddharamaiah, D.K. Shivakumar and Kumaraswamy in order to dispel the notion that it fields weak candidates against the Opposition in Vokkaliga heartland. "Sumalatha seems to be positive about contesting against Kumaraswamy though nothing is fixed as yet," BJP sources said.

'Will field a woman farmer if Sumalatha contests'

Bengaluru, Apr. 19 (Agencies)- Amid speculation that he might contest from Mandya, the former Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy yesterday clarified that he had no plans of contesting from anywhere besides Channapatna.

Kumaraswamy said his party would field a woman farmer or a party worker if Mandya MP Sumalatha Ambarish, who is supporting the BJP, entered the poll fray in the Mandya Assembly Constituency and would ensure the party's victory.

"I'm not a big person like her (Sumalatha). The people of Mandya will give a fitting reply to the arrogant words," he said, while responding to the MP's recent remarks against him and the JD(S) MLAs from Mandya.

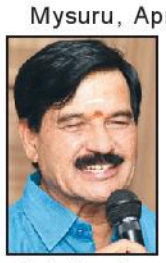
Krishnaraja Assembly Constituency

Ramdas won't quit BJP, will seek votes for party nominee

Mysuru, Apr. 19 (MK&BS)- S.A. Ramdas, the BJP MLA of Krishnaraja Assembly Constituency, who had been sulking over not getting the ticket to contest the coming election on May 10, has decided to remain as a common worker of the party.



S.A. Ramdas

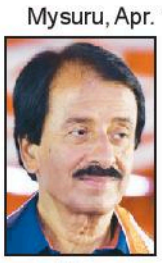
Addressing media persons at his office in Vidyaranyapuram in city last evening, Ramdas said: "It is important that the double-engine Government should return to power in the State again. As a responsible elected representative, I will involve in nation building activities till the last breath of my life and hence will remain as a common worker of the party. What holds significant for me is the Prime Minister ruling the country and also the country, not the post of a MLA. Hence I have arrived at this decision."

"For 30 years I have rendered service to the society as a Legislator and Minister. What counts is our behaviour during any difficult situations. It includes my personal life too, but as a RSS member, I believe party is above personal interests and will work for the victory of BJP candidate (T.S. Srivatsa) in the interest of the country," added Ramdas.

"I will be with the party candidate Srivatsa during the filing of nomination paper on Apr. 20 and also go door-to-door seeking votes from Apr. 22," he clarified.

Ticket denied, but ex-MLA Vasu to remain Congman

Mysuru, Apr. 19 (PM&BS)- Former Congress MLA Vasu of Chamaraja Constituency, who was not given ticket for the coming elections on May 10, has said: "I belong to the Congress party forever and have decided not to contest the election either from any other party or as an independent candidate. I have decided not to leave Congress forever."



Vasu

Vasu, who has released a press note in this regard, has clarified: "It's known to all that I was the Congress ticket aspirant for the 2023 General elections to the Assembly from Chamaraja Constituency. For over four decades, I have worked with commitment in the party. Still I could not get the ticket and I have disclosed the reasons behind directly in a press conference. I still vouch by the statements made before the media. During the press conference held on Apr. 16, I had announced to disclose my next step and stand in the present election in another two days. Accordingly, I have made my decision known."

Musings on Karnataka Assembly Elections 2023

Sonia Gandhi

Somanna

Siddharamaiah

R. Ashoka

D.K. Shivakumar

Karnataka is now in birth pangs of a new government — May 2023. The fight is between the incumbent BJP and desperate Congress but JD(S) is the challenge to both Congress and BJP. H.D. Kumaraswamy of JD(S) is confident that in case of a fractured mandate he can act as a catalyst in forming the government and become a king-maker or with a little bit of luck become the king himself. After all, if it could happen in the past in 2006 (BJP, JD-S) and 2018 (Congress-JD(S), why not in 2023? It is said that politics is the game of possibilities. He who plays well will win.

Be that as it may, I am wondering if there are similarities to the present 2023 Assembly election and the 1999 Assembly election in Karnataka. Yes there are, I guess.

Sonia Gandhi had become the President of Congress party in March 1998, about a year before the Karnataka Assembly election in October 1999. Now at the time of 2023 Assembly election, Mallikarjun Kharge is the President of Congress party. He became the President in October 2022, about a year before the present Karnataka Assembly election. In 1999, the President of KPCC was S.M. Krishna, who became the Chief Minister following Congress victory. In 2023, the President of KPCC is D.K. Shivakumar. Is it possible for Congress to repeat 1999 success in 2023? If it does, then will D.K. Shivakumar become the Chief Minister like S.M. Krishna becoming CM in 1999?

At the Centre there was a surprise development when the first Vajpayee Government lost the vote of confidence (April 17, 1999) and collapsed. As a result, Karnataka Assembly election (October 1999) came to be held along with the Lok Sabha elections (September - October 1999).

The Congress Central Election Committee (CCEC) decided that Sonia Gandhi would contest from Raebareli. The kowtowing by Congress 'men' to Nehru-Gandhi family seemed to have begun from the time of this 1999 Parliamentary election. The CCEC made a request to Sonia Gandhi, who was sure to win Raebareli, as it was her family's fiefdom since independence, that in order to project her as a national leader she should also contest from a Southern State and it could be Karnataka. That was how the sitting MP of Bellary K.C. Kondaiah 'voluntarily' vacated the seat for Sonia Gandhi.

That was probably for the first time in Indian electoral politics a person was contesting from two Constituencies (thanks to our Constitution and the law relating to elections) to show to the world his or her power and popularity! It may not be the beginning of sycophancy in Congress. That was there since Nehru's days anyway. But the days of total surrender and servile submission to Nehru-Gandhi family headed by Sonia Gandhi began for all Congress men and women from the time Sonia was offered the Presidentship of AICC on a platter by three senior Congress stalwarts two of whom have left the Congress and have formed their own party while another veteran's son has joined BJP! What an irony!! No wonder Sonia continued to be the President of AICC for 25 years, till 2022 when Mallikarjun Kharge was 'elected' as Congress President. After a farce of an election, according to report. Let it be.

However, the moot point is the idea of one person contesting from two Constituencies to face the adversary and thereby gamble a victory at least in one of the two Constituencies. Yes, for Sonia Gandhi's good luck she won her Bellary seat despite facing a formidable Sushma Swaraj of BJP challenging her. Sonia, of course, won from Raebareli also. However, she chose to resign her Bellary seat, as law requires a person to hold only one seat. Allowing a person to contest from two or more seats is one of many aberrations or quirks of democracy! Will a 'nation first' government set-right this kind of fault lines in our electoral system? Who is to bell the cat? These are the times when men are mice and political leaders are cats!

When results came, Vajpayee-led NDA returned to power at the Centre but in Karnataka Congress won with absolute majority of 132 seats in the 224 member Assembly and S.M. Krishna became the Chief Minister.

I reflect on this past political events today because in this election we see one BIG leader from Congress Siddharamaiah, former Chief Minister and now the Leader of Opposition, wanting desperately to contest from two Constituencies — Varuna and Kolar. Was he afraid of losing in Varuna (a seat his son Dr. Yathindra sacrificed for him) that he decided to have another string in his bow? Or was he wanting to prove his power and popularity like Sonia Gandhi proved in 1999 Parliamentary election? Anyway, now that the Congress has refused to oblige him he has to fight for his honour from Varuna only.

In the meanwhile, BJP is upto some Plan-B in its election strategy, being aware that it is on a weak wicket facing the challenges of incumbency and corruption. So it fields a 'Bahubali' of a Lingayat politician V. Somanna against Siddharamaiah while Somanna is also contesting from a second Constituency in Chamarajanagar, the neighbouring district to Mysuru's Varuna. It is rumoured that should Somanna win in both, he becomes a giant killer. And the reward? Pattabhisheka, coronation as Chief Minister!

But wait. The BJP has also pushed another BIG Vokkaliga leader R. Ashoka into the lion's den in Kanakapura, the bastion of that 'monolith' D.K. Shivakumar, a Vokkaliga. R. Ashoka is also contesting from his fiefdom Padmanabhanagar as an insurance cover! Now if he wins both, will he also make a claim for CM's office? That is a big IF.

Hurrah ! Blow the trumpet. Let the electoral war begin.

India overtakes China; becomes most populous nation with 142.86 cr. people

New Delhi, Apr. 19 (Agencies)- India has become the world's most populous country, overtaking China, data released by the United Nations today showed. According to UN estimates, India's population is 142.86 crore against China's 142.57 crore.

This is the first time that India has topped the UN list of most populous countries since it started collecting population data in 1950. The number of people in China shrank last year for the first time since 1960, when millions starved to death under the disastrous agricultural policies of former leader Mao Zedong.

China also faces a looming demographic decline as birth rates plunge and its workforce ages. Several regions have also announced plans to boost birth rates — but official efforts have so far failed to reverse the decline.

India has no recent official data on how many people it has because it has not conducted a census since 2011.

India's once in a decade census was due to be held in 2021 but was delayed due to the Coronavirus pandemic.

Cracker godown gutted in Hebbal

Mysuru, Apr. 19 (RK&KS)- Tension prevailed for sometime at a cracker godown on Rane Madras Factory Road, Hebbal in Hootagalli Industrial Area this afternoon, when it caught fire resulting in loud booming sounds.

The crackers worth lakhs of rupees were gutted in the fire.

Anand who owns the godown had not only stored the crackers, but was also conducting business in the same premises.

Thick smoke, accompanied by booming sounds caught the people off-guard, who began to run helter-skelter on hearing the sound. Soon, a large number of people began crowding the place, which caused a traffic jam on the road. Three fire tenders from Hebbal Fire Station rushed to the spot and were still dousing the fire at the time of going to press. Hebbal and Vijayanagar Police also rushed to the spot and restrained people gathered on the spot.

Former CM Siddharamaiah goes on temple run before filing nomination

Mysuru, Apr. 19 (MTY&DM)- Former Chief Minister and Varuna Constituency Congress candidate Siddharamaiah undertook a temple run this morning, before filing his nomination papers from Varuna Constituency at Nanjangud later this afternoon.

Siddharamaiah, who arrived at his native village Siddaramanahundi from his Ramakrishnanagar residence in the city, was given a tumultuous welcome by the villagers. He later offered prayers at Siddarameshwara temple in the village, following which he went to Chamundi Hill, where too he was accorded a grand reception by the Hill residents. As soon as he reached the hilltop, Siddharamaiah was greeted a huge apple garland dropped from a crane, under the leadership of former Chamundi Hill Gram Panchayat President Bharath Kalaiah.

Later, he sought the blessings of Goddess Chamundeshwari, before leaving for Tripura Sundari Amma temple at Uttanahalli in Chamundi foothill, from where he is expected to visit Nanjangud and offer prayers at Srikanteshwaraswamy temple.

The former CM was accompanied by his son and Varuna MLA Dr. Yathindra Siddharamaiah, grandson Dhawan (son of Siddu's elder son late Rakesh Siddharamaiah), former Union Minister K.H. Muniyappa and other local Congress leaders.

Siddharamaiah's grandson Dhawan Rakesh, who arrived from Bengaluru yesterday to be with his grandfather during the filing of nomination papers, spoke to presspersons at Siddaramanahundi this morning, where he spelt out his future plans.

Pointing out that he is 17-years-old and is a II PU student at Bengaluru, Dhawan said that he plans to study Law after PUC. "After completing my Law studies, I have plans to enter politics. I have voluntarily come here only to learn about the fundamentals of politics from my grandfather Siddharamaiah, who has been in politics for decades. I am getting prepared to serve the people after completing my studies. The people of my native village blessed me soon as I arrived at the village, which is one of the biggest moments for me. As a boy, I used to frequently talk with my grandfather when he was the Chief Minister," he said, while expressing hope that his grandfather would win from Varuna.

Mysuru, Apr. 19 (MTY&DM)- The nomination-spree continued on the fifth day today, with many candidates representing different parties and independent contestants filing their nomination papers across the district.

The deadline for filing of nomination papers is Apr. 20. As the last day (Thursday) is considered as inauspicious due to Amavasya (New Moon Day) coupled with solar eclipse, candidates are rushing in to the offices of their respective Returning Officer to file their papers before 3 pm today.

Today, Chamaraja Constituency Congress candidate K. Harish Gowda filed his papers at MCC Main Office on Sayyaji Rao Road. He presented his papers to Returning Officer G. Lakshmikantha Reddy, who is MCC Commissioner.

Prior to filing of nomination papers, Harish Gowda, who hails from K.G. Koppal, offered prayers at Chandramouleshwara temple in K.G. Dead man wakes up, then dies en route to hospital

The doctors at the hospital, however, declared that Jagadish was brought dead and shifted the body to the mortuary at the Hanur Primary Healthcare Centre. The doctors had mentioned heart attack as the cause of death.

Hearing the tragic news, Chamarajanagar Deputy Commissioner D.S. Ramesh visited the hospital and saw Jagadish who was lying still. He collected information from officials and medical staff and left the place.

Mother's touch

Before the post-mortem, Jagadish's mother went to the mortuary to see her son and she touched his hands, barely controlling her emotions. However, she felt that his hands and legs moved and she immediately alerted the staff over there. Incharge Taluk Medical Officer Dr. Prakash rushed to the mortuary and found that Jagadish indeed had the pulse and was alive and breathing.

Dr. Prakash asked his staff to immediately shift Jagadish to a bigger hospital in Mysuru. But as fate would have willed, Jagadish died en route and the doctors at the private hospital pronounced him brought dead. Jagadish was suffering from low BP, said his family members.

Jagadish's ECG was conducted at the Holy Cross Hospital by Chamarajanagar District Health and Family Welfare Officer Dr. Vishveshwaraiah and the ECG report was flat and there was no pulse and was as such declared dead. But by evening, the Taluk Medical Officer had reported the pulse and he was shifted to Mysuru but he died on the way.

Dr. Prakash told reporters that Jagadish fell and injured his head and did not regain consciousness till the afternoon. Hanur Tahsildar Guruprasad said that the incident has been taken seriously and will be investigated.

City sculptor to carve Ayodhya Ram Lalla idol

Arun Yogiraj's sculpture to feature five-year-old Lord Ram armed with a bow and arrow

Ayodhya/Mysuru, Apr. 19 (BCT)- City-based sculptor Arun Yogiraj will carve out a standing idol of Ram Lalla that will be placed inside the under-construction Ram Temple in Ayodhya.

Arun Yogiraj

Over 60 percent of the construction of Ram Temple has been completed and as the sun enters Makar Rashi in 2024, Lord Ram will take a seat in the Temple's original sanctum sanctorum. The idol that will be carved by Arun Yogiraj will also find a place at the sanctum sanctorum, reports from Ayodhya said.

Yogiraj had carved the 12-feet 3D statue of Adi Guru Shankaracharya in sitting posture at the Kedarnath Temple in Rudraprayag district of Uttarakhand and the 30-feet statue of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose installed at India Gate under the grand canopy behind the erstwhile Amar Jawan Jyoti.

Udupi Pejawar Mutt Seer Sri Vishwaprasanna Tirtha Swamiji, who is also a member of Shri Ram Janmabhoomi Teerth Kshetra Trust, Ayodhya, told reporters in Ayodhya yesterday that Arun Yogiraj will use black stones (Krishna Shila) from Karnataka to carve out the standing idol of 5-year-old Ram Lalla in the form of an archer.

"The Ram Lalla idol will be five-foot tall and will feature a 5-year-old Ram Lalla armed with a bow and arrow, which will be in a standing posture," the Seer said. The decision to hand over the sculpting task to Arun was taken at a two-day meeting of the Trust. The meeting concluded yesterday.

Confirming the development to Star of Mysore this morning, Arun Yogiraj said that black schist or Krishna Shile will be used to carve the idol. "The finer details, design, height and form of the Ram Lalla idol are yet to be finalised but it is confirmed that I will carve the idol," Arun said, without divulging many details.

Arun said that he was in transit from Ayodhya and had landed at the Kempegowda International Airport in Bengaluru today at noon. "I will come to Mysuru today and will plan out the sculpture as I have been tasked with by the Shri Ram Janmabhoomi Teerth Kshetra Trust and in consultation with the Trust," he added.

Meanwhile, reports from Ayodhya said that a large black stone that was dispatched from Nellikaru village in Karkala last month had arrived in Ayodhya.

Several sculptures displayed in different parts of the country and abroad have been crafted using Karkala's Nellikaru stones. In the past, various rocks from other locations in the country and abroad were transported to Ayodhya for carving idols.

Champat Rai, General Secretary of Shri Ram Janmabhoomi Teerth Kshetra Trust said that a team comprising prominent religious figures, geologists, sculptors, experts in Hindu religious texts and rock engineers carried out extensive technical and religious assessments on these rocks.

Seers release Prof. Somashekaragowda's autobiography 'Devara Dinagalu'

Mysuru, Apr. 19 (PM&TRR)- "Upanishads, written by our ancient saints, proclaim that God is present in every corner of the world and he is omnipresent," said Adichunchanagiri Mutt's Mysuru branch Head Sri Somanatha Swamiji.

He was speaking after releasing the book 'Devara Dinagalu,' an autobiography of former Professor of Kuvempu Institute of Kannada Studies (KIKS) Prof. Somashekaragowda, at a function organised on the occasion of his (Prof. Somashekaragowda) 75th birthday at Vijnana Bhavan in Manasagangothri here on Apr. 16.

Dr. Sri Trinetra Mahanta Shivayogi Swamiji, Sri Chandrashekara Shivacharya Swamiji, Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji and Sri Somanatha Swamiji releasing the autobiography of former Professor of Kuvempu Institute of Kannada Studies (KIKS) Prof. Somashekaragowda (third from right) at a programme held at Vijnana Bhavan in Manasagangothri on Apr. 16. Others seen are (from left) City BJP Mahila Morcha President Hema Nandish, former Mysuru District Kannada Sahitya Parishat President M. Chandrashekar, Prof. Somashekaragowda's wife Prof. Padma Shekar, son Preetam S. Gowda, daughter-in-law Mariam.

"By writing his autobiography on his 75th birthday, Prof. Somashekaragowda has given a literary gift to the society. He has a rural background and has recorded his feelings about his village in his book. It is rare that thinkers believe in God. But Prof. Somashekaragowda has abundant faith in God," opined the Seer.

Sri Chandrashekara Shivacharya Swamiji of Belagavi Raibag's Hukkeri Hiremutt, who spoke about the book 'Devara Dinagalu,' said that Somashekaragowda has believed that every moment of his life is a blessing of God. While most of autobiography writers hide lot of things, Prof. Somashekaragowda has revealed everything in his book, added the Seer.

"The book contains many quality contents. Some orthodox writers who read this book may even feel that the writer should not have written like this. Autobiography is all about telling the truth. 'Devara Dinagalu' is a rare book in this regard, opined Sri Chandrashekara Shivacharya Swamiji and concluded by saying that the book which has 424 pages, reaffirms the traditional Indian belief that the main source of all achievements is one's family and the writer has wholeheartedly appreciated the cooperation of his family members in his achievements.

Dr. Sri Trinetra Mahanta Shivayogi Swamiji of Srirangapatna Chandravana Ashram and Seer of Bebi Mutt, who also spoke at the function, appreciated the title of the book 'Devara Dinagalu' since every minute of our life is given by God. "It is only time, which we can truly claim as ours and hence our good works during the time given by God will become important. We should not waste our time as the time wasted will not come to us again. Prof. Somashekaragowda has spent every minute of his time given by God by remembering him and thereby expressed his gratitude to the Almighty," added Dr. Sri Trinetra Swamiji.

Suttur Seer Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji, who also graced the occasion, said, "The book 'Devara Dinagalu' contains a large number of names. Prof. Somashekaragowda has stored all those names in his memory and has gratefully acknowledged the help he received from his numerous friends and relatives. Somashekaragowda, who has strong belief in God, believes that every moment of his life is a bonus given by the Almighty. He has detailed his life story in a simple and natural language."

Author Prof. Somashekaragowda said that the book is a true recording of his life. "God will not let down those who have trust in him and I am a living example for this. Most part of my autobiography is also the autobiography of my wife (Prof. Padma Shekar)," he opined.

Retired Vice-Chancellor of Sanskrit University Prof. Padma Shekar, who spoke on the occasion, said that though 15 years have passed since Prof. Somashekaragowda's retirement, he never bothered about writing despite our pestering. But he has completed his autobiography is just two months. "He is an ardent worshipper of Lord Sri Rama. If we move along in life with patience and restraint we can lead a good life and our life is a testimony for this," she concluded.

Prof. Somashekaragowda and Prof. Padma Shekar couple were felicitated at the function. Former Mysuru District Kannada Sahitya Parishat President M. Chandrashekar, Prof. Somashekaragowda's son Preetam S. Gowda and others were present.

Mysuru, Apr. 19 (SSM)- The newly constructed Dental Clinic for the inmates of Mysuru Jail was inaugurated at a programme organised by JSS Dental College and Mysuru Central Prison on Apr. 14, marking Dr. B.R. Ambedkar Jayanthi.

Rotary Mysore West has provided donation for the construction of the Dental Clinic.

The inmates of the prison with dental issues were earlier being treated at the Primary Health Centre (PHC) that was set up inside the Prison. However, a new Dental Clinic is now set up with all necessary equipment. Doctors from JSS Dental College will visit the Prison every week on Thursday and will screen patients from 11 am. Those inmates with serious dental issues will be taken to JSS Dental Hospital for further treatment with necessary security.

Speaking after inaugurating the clinic, Rotary West President Rtn. Ullas Pandit said that the clinic is exclusively for the prisoners' dental health. "Inmates must make use of the clinic whenever in need and make sure that their dental health is maintained," he added.

Mysore Central Prison Chief Jail Superintendent K.C. Divyashree, who presided over the event, said that the inmates must make use of the clinic and look after their health.

"It is a great occasion that the Dental Clinic is being inaugurated on Dr. Ambedkar Jayanthi day. Dr. Ambedkar has made immense contribution to the country. All the prisoners must transform into good human beings and always be a rightful citizen for the society after they get released from the prison," she added.

Santosh will make Somanna a scapegoat: Siddharamaiah

If Sonia Gandhi can contest in Bellary, Indira Gandhi from Chikkamagalur, Rahul Gandhi from Wayanad, why not Somanna from Varuna: Pratap Simha

Mysuru, Apr.19 (MTY&BS)- Leader of Opposition in the Legislative Assembly, Siddharamaiah, who is the Congress candidate for Varuna, has alleged that V. Somanna, who is contesting as the Varuna BJP candidate at the behest of B.L. Santosh, the BJP National General Secretary (Organisation), has become a sacrificial lamb.

While speaking to the media at the Mysuru Airport in Mandakalli yesterday, Siddharamaiah stated that Somanna, who was originally seeking a ticket to contest from Govindarajanagar in Bengaluru, was forced to contest from Varuna with the malicious intention of finishing him (Siddharamaiah). He also claimed that Somanna has fallen prey to the plot of Santosh to field those with good financial resources to spend on the election.

"Somanna has no connection to Varuna as he hails from the Ramanagara and has been involved in politics in Bengaluru. Even when he was a Minister, he made no contributions to Varuna. "Despite this," said Siddharamaiah sarcastically, "he has been pitted in the election here."

While speaking to reporters, Siddharamaiah sounded confident as he stated, "Let anyone contest in Varuna, the people of the Constituency will not betray me. This is my last election and I had the desire to contest from this segment as it comprises my hometown. No matter who is pitched against me, they can't ruin the relationship I have with the people here. Somanna is an outsider, while I am a local resident. I know every village and person in this area. I have represented this Constituency for ten years as an MLA and even became the Chief Minister from here. Therefore, I have a better rapport with the people."

The former CM recalled, "In the previous election, my son Dr. Yathindra Siddharamaiah had to contest from Varuna as per the aspirations of the people. I had contested from Chamundeshwari Constituency but was defeated."

Siddharamaiah then challenged Somanna's record, stating that as Housing Minister, he did not allot any housing units to Varuna. Siddharamaiah further challenged Somanna to prove that he has contributed to the district in any way during his tenure as a District Minister. "Has he provided shelter to the homeless? Let him demonstrate that he has implemented any schemes or projects in Varuna," challenged Siddharamaiah.

Siddharamaiah questioned, "Who has developed Varuna all these years? Who built four bridges? Who provided roads, drinking water, drainage and other basic facilities? Just because somebody tells lies, people won't forget the development works done by us. My victory in Varuna is assured."

Regarding the statement of Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai that they have taken Varuna seriously, Siddharamaiah asked, "Does this mean that they have taken the remaining 223 constituencies lightly and only considered Varuna seriously?"

Siddharamaiah then criticised Bommai for not being aware that Varuna lacks Taluk Centre status, despite being the Chief Minister. "His lack of knowledge on the Taluk Centre shows his downfall. Can such people safeguard the State?" he questioned.

"The BJP would win no more than 60 seats, yet the CM continues to make promises," he said and then questioned why CM Bommai did not make Varuna a Taluk Centre during his four-year tenure. Siddharamaiah accused Bommai of lying wherever he goes and making false promises of bringing "ache din" and bringing heaven down to earth by pointing to the sky.

Santosh pulls strings

Siddharamaiah claimed that there were no allegations against S.A. Ramdas, the BJP MLA from Krishnaraja, but he was still denied a ticket. He also pointed out that several other BJP leaders, including Jagadish Shettar and Laxman Savadi, were also refused tickets. Siddharamaiah suggested that B.L. Santosh played a role in the decision, and even Shettar had made similar comments.

Grandson's interest in politics makes grandfather happy

Mysuru, Apr. 19 (BS)- Siddharamaiah expressed his delight over his grandson's interest in politics. Dhawan, the son of Siddharamaiah's late elder son Rakesh Siddharamaiah, accompanied his grandfather to Mysuru to witness Siddharamaiah's nomination filing as the Congress candidate for Varuna. Siddharamaiah explained that he is happy to see his grandson's interest in politics and that Dhawan's visit was voluntary. While some leaders took selfies with Dhawan, Siddharamaiah clarified that he would not ask his family members to campaign.

"Earlier, Rakesh was taking care of Chamundeshwari and Varuna Constituencies. He (Dhawan) carries his father's traits. I will neither tell him to go for campaigning nor will I call anybody from the family for canvassing," Siddharamaiah added.

Simha's retort on 'outsider' remark

Meanwhile, Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha has retorted to the 'outsider' remark made by Siddharamaiah against Somanna. In a tweet yesterday that has gone viral, Simha said, "Siddaramanna, Italy-born Sonia Gandhi can contest the election in Bellary, Allahabad-born Indira Gandhi can come to Chikkamagalur, Rahul Gandhi born to foreign mother in New Delhi can move to Wayanad in Kerala. Can't Somanna come to Varuna? Tell us, if you were born in Badami from where you (Siddharamaiah) contested the last election?"

Shettar accuses BJP leader B.L.Santosh of shaking party foundation

Hubballi, Apr.19 (KMS&DM)- Accusing B. L. Santosh, BJP National General Secretary (Organisation), of shaking the very foundation of the party by cutting short the prospects of popular party leaders, former Chief Minister Jagadish Shettar, who quit the BJP to join the Congress, squarely blamed Santosh for him being denied the BJP ticket from Hubballi-Dharwad Central seat.

Addressing a press meet at Hubballi yesterday, Shettar maintained that Santosh was the man behind the denial of Assembly ticket to him. Alleging that he was sidelined just because Santosh wanted his protege Mahesh Tenginakai to enter the Assembly from Hubballi-Dharwad Central seat, Shettar said rumours were set afloat for the past six months that Shettar would not get ticket.

The former CM, who is now the Congress candidate from Hubballi-Dharwad Central seat, said he had brought to the notice of BJP Central leadership on Santosh's plot to sideline top leaders of the State and to replace them with his own men.

Continuing his tirade against Santosh, Shettar asserted that the State BJP was now controlled by Santosh and he was left wondering why Prime Minister Modi , Union Home Minister Amit Shah and other top party leaders have confidence on Santosh and continued with him even though they are aware of Santosh's failures as election In-charge of Assembly polls in Kerala, Tamil Nadu, Telangana and West Bengal. Contending that Santosh had taken full control of the State BJP, he said this had resulted in the loosening of BJP's foundation in many districts, especially those in Northern Karnataka, which can be seen with the exit of many influential Lingayat leaders.

Commenting on the possibility of ED, IT raids on him now that he has joined the Congress, Shettar said he does not fear any Central agencies.

CM, ex-CM react

Reacting to Shettar's allegations, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said that no party leader can deny the poll ticket of another leader. Asserting that it was the BJP High Command that distributed party tickets, Bommai said that the quitting of Shettar will not have any bearing on the BJP's prospects in the polls.

Maintaining that it was the BJP which groomed Lingayat leaders and gave them power, he alleged that the Congress had all along ignored the Lingayat community. Now that the elections have come, the Congress is making unnecessary comments on the BJP leadership. Former CM and Lingayat strongman B.S. Yediyurappa too has opposed Shettar's remarks on Santosh.

Commenting on Shettar's jibe, Yediyurappa said it is wrong on the part of Shettar to blame Santosh for his failure to get the BJP ticket. Coming out in defence of Santosh, Yediyurappa said it was not Santosh who distributed the party tickets but it was a collective decision of top BJP leaders. Shettar's exit from the party will not make any impact and the BJP will win with an absolute majority and form the next Government, he added.

WORD OF THE DAY

Lackadaisical

Pronunciation: lak-uh-DAY-zih-kul.
Meaning: Something or someone described as lackadaisical is lacking in life, spirit, or zest.
Origin: We're too enthusiastic about the lexicon to be lackadaisical about words, but lackadaisical itself is rooted in the sort of sorrow that can put a damper on one's passion for vocabulary expansion. When folks living from the late 17th to the late 19th century had one of those days when nothing goes right, they could cry "Lackaday!" to express their sorrow and disappointment as a shortened form of the expression "alack the day." (Alack is an interjection used to express sorrow or regret.) By the mid-1700s, the adjective lackadaisical had been formed to describe these miserable ones and their doings and sayings. Around the same time, the word lackadaisy was introduced to the language as an interjection similar to lackaday; it was never as prevalent as lackaday, but it may have influenced the development of lackadaisical.
Example: "A song like the lackadaisical 'Funny in Dreams' could scan as too facile — who'd have thought that strange things happen in our dreams!— but she [folk singer, Nicole Rodriguez] deftly uses it as an opportunity for vivid introspection." — Rachel Saywitz

THE ODD WORD

Lancinate

To lacerate; to pierce.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

The last straw

Meaning: Also known as 'The Final Straw,' the phrase 'The Last Straw' is used to describe the last of a series of undesirable or unpleasant events that makes you come to the realisation that you can no longer accept a situation that has been worsening for a while. You can use the idiom 'The Last Straw' when something is deemed to be the last in a line of unacceptable occurrences.
Origin: The origin of the idiom 'The last straw' can be found in the old English proverb, "it is the last straw that breaks the camel's back." It was first seen around 1755, and many different forms of the statement were used between then and about 1836, with the suffering animal occasionally described as a horse or an elephant rather than as a camel.
Example: "She has been unhappy with him for a long time but when he crashed her car, it was the last straw."

Arjun Tendulkar takes 1st IPL wicket in tense last over for MI Vs SRH

Hyderabad, Apr. 19- Arjun Tendulkar's IPL debut was widely followed as he played his first match in the Indian Premier League (IPL) for Mumbai Indians (MI) against Kolkata Knight Riders (KKR).

While Arjun, son of Sachin Tendulkar, could not scalp any wicket in his first match, the wait ended in his second match, that too in a tense last over against Sunrisers Hyderabad (SRH).

With SRH needing 20 runs in the last over, Arjun scalped his maiden wicket on the fifth ball as he dismissed Bhuvneshwar Kumar, who was caught by Rohit Sharma at covers. Before that, Arjun looked like following a plan and delivered a couple of good yorkers to keep the SRH batters at bay.

MI ultimately won by 14 runs as Rohit Sharma was ecstatic after Arjun got his first wicket.
